American Numismatic Society,

Gentlemen,

Among some Th dollars we have found a bill for four dollars, in perfect condition, except for lightly marked creases, where it had been folded into a letter.

I enclose a detail of it which gives the exact size of

of Bill and a general idea of its pictures—

I shall be very glad if you can tell me if this is worth anything as money,
or is an old bit of paper
currency for a Collector—

Very truly Yours
Josephine Parks.

Dear Madam:

Your five dollar bill has no monetary value but to a collector it is worth possibly $2.50. We happen to have the one dollar bill of this bank but not the five and would offer you $2.50 for it subject to inspection.

Very truly yours,

HW:JG
